MORE VICTIMS.

SIX DEATHS FROM YELLOW FEVER AT JACKSONVILLE.

THE NUMBER OF NEW CASES REACHES SEVENTY-THREE.

The Infected Districts Praying for Frosts. Gainesville, Georgia, in Great Need of Assistance—An Appeal to Be Made—No Truth in the Yellow Fever Story From Gallipolis, Ohio.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 5.—The official bulletin for Wednesday, up to 6 p. m., shows new cases, 73; deaths, 6; total deaths to date, 270. Of the 73 new cases 32 are white and 41 colored.

Dr. Hamilton has telegraphed from Washington that during the reduced period of quarantine those who have had the fever and are now well, may leave for any desired point on the certificate of the board of health, after spending three days in the camp. Free transportation will be provided for those destitute of means.

Even in the midst of our own sorrows and troubles a move is begun to build a monument to Col. Daniels by free will offering of the people. He was a grand man and held the first place in the hearts of all.

Dr. Sellace Mitchell invited all the members of the medical staff to visit the Sand Hills hospital, and they all, with few exceptions, availed themselves of the opportunity.

One Case at Gainesville.

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Oct. 5.—There is only one new case of fever, that of a colored man who was a guard at Maj. Greville's residence. The case is a mild one, and the patient is doing well. An appeal for help will be made through the press at once. But little aid has been offered to Gainesville. Contributions can be forwarded to H. F. Dutton, acting mayor of the city.

Three Deaths at Decatur.

DECATUR, Ala., Oct. 5.—Jerome Cochran, state health officer, reports three deaths and four new cases. Those dead are: Martin Hooker, Dr. W. B. Black and Robert Orr, colored.

The Gallipolis Story a Canard.

GALLIPOLIS, O., Oct. 5.—The reports from Point Pleasant, announcing three deaths from yellow fever here, are untrue. Capt. Hall died from diabetes after a long illness; Mrs. Smeltzer died from obstruction of the bowels; Miss Robinson died from consumption, hastened by malaria. We have had no cases here that resembled in any shape yellow fever. The health of our city is better now than ever before known.

Samuel T. Cook, mayor, and president board of health; D. A. Howell, M. D.; John Sams, M. D.; James Johnston, M. D.; F. A. Crowley, M. D.; J. T. Hanson, M. D.; R. H. Coulter, pastor Presbyterian church; John Moncure, rector St. Peter's church, will verify the above statement. The burial certificates were in accordance with the above.

Raid on a Clock Game.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—A clock game patronized by clerks and brokers, as a means of gambling on the market, was raided Wednesday just after the noon hour, by fifty policemen, who arrested about three hundred of the inmates. They were marched under escort to city hall, where they were released on bail. Most of them escaped in time to appear at that office, but it is understood about one hundred clerks lost their positions. The proprietors claim that they cannot be convicted of running a gaming establishment, but the police swear they will break it up, as small embezzlements are daily occurring on account of losses at the clock game.

The Georgia Election.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 5.—The Georgia state election yesterday developed unexpected strength for the Independents. In Walton county two independent candidates for the legislature were elected over the regular Democratic nominees, one of the latter being ex-Governor McDaniel's brother. The Republicans carried Pickens county for the senate and house. Rev. Sam Small, Prohibition candidate for the legislature at Atlanta, received a very heavy vote, but not sufficient to elect him. There are fully twenty-five Independents elected. Governor Gordon and other Democratic state officials have been re-elected.

Southern Illinois Coal Miners.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 5.—The St. Louis consolidated coal trust held a meeting here Wednesday to consider the demands of the striking miners of southern Illinois. Three representatives of the miners also held a meeting in East St. Louis. The miners' committee waited on the trust and after two hours was informed that the trust would not give the price asked. The committee returned to East St. Louis and reported. A resolution was passed by the miners to continue the strike. About three hundred more miners went out Wednesday.

Bob Burdette Licensed to Preach.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5.—At the meeting of the Philadelphia Baptist association held at Bustleton some little flutter was caused by the letter from the church at Lower Merion, which announced that Robert J. Burdette, the well known humorist, had been licensed to preach.

Blown Through the Roof and Killed.

STREATOR, Ill., Oct. 5.—By the blowing out of a plate in a boiler at the Chicago Coal company's shaft Wednesday, Tony Kitmos, the engineer, was blown through the roof of the building forty-five feet into the air. He died within a few minutes.

Chinese Bureau Closed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—The following formal notice has been issued by Collector of Customs Hager: "No Chinese return certificates will hereafter be issued, and the Chinese bureau will remain closed to the public from this date."

Both Parties Will Fight the Mormons.

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 5.—The Democratic territorial convention has decided to make no nomination for a congressional delegate. The vote of both parties will be united in opposition to the Mormon candidate.

CAUSED A SENSATION.

A Canadian Attorney General Favors Annexation.

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—Attorney General Longley, of Nova Scotia, is here attending the supreme court. He has created a sensation in the stronghold of Toryism by his outspoken utterances on international questions. He is an out-and-out annexationist, but simply calls himself an advocate of unrestricted reciprocity with the United States. Talking to the Times correspondent he said:

"The people of Nova Scotia want to trade with their neighbors rather than build up an unprotected inter-provincial trade. I think Senator Sherman, in his speeches, has played a great card to bring about annexation. The bluster of an element of the American people respecting Canada could have no avail, for Anglo-Saxons are not to be bulldozed, but if other American politicians following in the wake of Sherman, British interest in Canada is in danger. Unrestricted reciprocity will not be brought about in a day, for the prejudices of generations have got to be removed."

MR. POWDERLY AGAIN.

HE TALKS FURTHER ON THE IMMIGRATION QUESTION.

He Describes the Horrible Mann-r in Which Hungarians, Imported Under Contract, Live in the Mines of Maryland—Foreigners Should Be Warned.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The Tribune's Philadelphia special says: In the Journal of United Labor, Mr. Powderly, in speaking on the immigration question, says:

"On November 22, 1888, I visited the slave pens at Eckert mines, Maryland, and saw 105 Hungarians, who had been brought to this country under contract to take the places of striking American miners, huddled together in a single room. Take 105 Irishmen, Englishmen, Scotchmen, Welshmen, Germans or Frenchmen, anywhere in this country, and you find a village or town of from 300 to 600 inhabitants, supporting schools, churches, stores and other institutions."

"They would not submit to incarceration in the building at Eckert Mines or in 'Kelly's Row.' Their labor would go to improving the country in more ways than one. They would have their own homes in which to keep their own families. Having families to provide for they would not be contented to live as pigs live and receive but seventy-five cents or $1 a day."

"What harm are the 105 Hungarians doing by their mode of living? They are killing American labor, they are stopping the wheels of progress. Every 'Kelly's Row' that we have in this nation stops the building of a town of from 300 to 600 inhabitants. Every 'Kelly's Row' turns men to beasts, into serfs. We want no more workmen in this country at present, and we should warn the foreign workmen away."

A NINE ROUND FIGHT.

Jack Lane, of Brooklyn, Defeats Jimmie Collins, of Newark.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 5.—Jack Lane, of this city, and Jimmie Collins, of Newark, fought nine terrible rounds on the turf at Bensonhurst, L. I., this morning, for a purse of $80. The fight was fast and furious throughout.

Comparatively little science being displayed. The greatest slugging occurred in the eighth round. Both were badly punished and Collins was disabled by breaking his left wrist in planting a blow on his antagonist's head.

When time was called for the ninth round Collins was there but unable to do anything owing to his injuries. Lane took advantage of his opponent's disabled condition and beat him unmercifully. Collins was unable to respond on the call for the next round, and the fight was awarded Lane.

The Price of Copper.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—The price of copper has risen from nine and three-fourth cents a pound to seventeen and three-fourth cents since November 1, 1887. Within the last six days it has risen a cent. This sudden jump led to a hastily called meeting of the executive and business committees of the Manufacturers' Association of Brass and Iron, Steel, Gas and Water Works here to-day to take action regarding an increase of prices to meet the increased cost of material. The association represents 85 per cent. of the $30,000,000 product annually marketed in the United States. There were represented twenty-two large firms. It was decided to be inadvisable to make any advance, at least not until the annual meeting in New York, December 1. The cause of this is the manufacturers outside of the pool, representing about 15 per cent. of the product.

The Traders' Bank Affairs.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—A local paper says: It will require a week or ten days before anything definite can be known about the condition of the collapsed Traders' bank, and from thirty to sixty days will elapse before the depositors can realize anything on their funds locked up with the concern. What the dividend to creditors will be no one knows, even approximately, at this time, though the friends of the bank maintain that if only 80 per cent. is realized on the assets the depositors will be paid in full.

Death of a Revolutionary Widow.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 5.—The pension office here has received notice to suspend payment of the pension of Mrs. Sarah Crutcher, of Pitts Point, near Bardstown, Ky., widow of James Crutcher, a revolutionary soldier. She died last Saturday. She was eighty-eight years old, and had drawn a pension since 1853.

Born With Two Tongues.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Oct. 8.—A male child has been born to Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Miller, who reside near Hayesville, having two tongues. Both of the tongues are separate and distinct, and are perfectly developed. The child is large and healthy and finely developed, save the deformity mentioned above.

Hotel Proprietor Shoots Himself.

SANDESBURG, O., Oct. 5.—G. F. Schmidt, proprietor of the Park hotel at Put-in-Bay, killed himself to-day with a revolver.

40,000,000.

THIS IS THE NUMBER OF BUSHELS OF WHEAT SOLD

IN THE NEW YORK PRODUCE EXCHANGE IN ONE DAY.

Wednesday's Transactions Surpass Any for a Single Day Within the History of the Exchange—The Scene About the Grain Pit Beyond Description—No Failures Reported.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—For wild excitement the Produce exchange surpassed itself Wednesday. Never before in its history was there such a market, and the brokers acted as though they had gone mad.

They gathered about the grain pit long before the opening hour, and from the time gong sounded until well on in the afternoon the place looked like the violent ward in an insane asylum. The din was almost deafening, and spectators in the galleries witnessed a scene they will probably never forget. The brokers crowded around the pit until they were packed as closed as sardines, and there for hours they swayed to and fro, wildly waving their arms as they shouted bids for wheat.

This excitement had its effect upon all connected with the exchange, and in the provision trade, the flour ring and other quarters of the room, the men seemed as if infected with the fever that was running high among their brethren in the wheat pit. It was a tremendous strain, and everybody in the exchange breathed a sigh of relief when the day had passed, and no failures were announced. The cause of all this was the phenomenal action of the market, which, after the opening, jumped up six points from the closing price of the previous night, and then as suddenly reacted, falling back to within half a point of the opening figure of the morning.

It did not stay down, however, but again shot up, touching the highest point of the previous rise. Once more the quotations sagged off, this time falling two points for the highest, and finally closed there. The movement was a regular sea-saw and the brokers jumped about from the long to the short side, making their change of base with lightning like rapidity, and, thus fluctuating, they kept up the racket at a pace which was marvelous. All day long, and even after the market closed, large numbers of brokers gathered in the hallway of the exchange and continued their trading.

The transactions aggregated nearly forty million bushels of wheat, which is the largest total for any single day within the history of the Produce exchange. All sorts of rumors were afloat to add to the excitement and nervousness. It was said that there had been fully twenty-five failures in Chicago, where, according to the dispatches, the excitement was almost as intense as it was here, and then it was said that several large houses had been caught here and would fail during the day.

Before the close, however, it was definitely learned from Chicago that all the contracts there had gone through the clearing house without trouble. This was reassuring, and as time wore on there were no failures here, the nervous feeling passed away in a measure, and the closing was far quieter than the opening.

Fatal Quarrel Over Politics.

CORYDON, Ind., Oct. 5.—Jacob Holmes was shot and killed by Charles Spencer at DePauw, this county, Tuesday night. Spencer came to Corydon Wednesday, surrendered himself to the sheriff, and is now in jail. He is a young man of good appearance, and is of good family. Holmes was a blacksmith, and was forty years of age. Spencer's version of the tragedy is that Holmes bantered him for a fight, and followed him two hours, when he finally shot him in self-defense. Holmes was shot five times in the back, and the plea of self-defense is not plausible. The shooting was the result of a quarrel over politics.

An Arctic Explorer's Fate.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5.—The fate of Dr. Nansen, the Greenland explorer, seems to be in some doubt. He left Iceland June 4, and five days later came in sight of the mountains near Cape Dan. He was taken by a whaler with his pony to the east coast of Greenland, and there put on an ice floe to drift to the coast as best he could. Capt. Smith, of the bark Iodine, who was in Greenland as late as September, says that the report at Iglood was that Dr. Nansen had shot his pony to keep from starving, and that nothing had been heard from him on the west coast.

Bill to Invite Canada.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The Sun's Washington correspondent telegraphs that in an interview last night Senator Morgan confirmed the rumor that a resolution has been introduced in the senate committee on foreign relations looking to the purchase of Canada by the United States. The committee has taken no action on the proposition and does not seem to look upon it with favor. Mr. Blair was the author of the resolution. It proposes to invite Canada to become a state in the Union, the United States to assume the Canadian indebtedness of $300,000,000.

Baron Yerkes Ready.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—The conductors and drivers of the North Side will probably have to strike Saturday to enforce their demand for shorter hours and better pay. President Yerkes has given out that the company has no further proposition to offer and that it is ready to stand on the ground it has already taken, no matter what the result may be. This means that the North Side car lines will be tied up for an indefinite period unless the company can get new men to operate them.

"Bodler" McQuade's Bail.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Recorder Smythe to-day fixed the bail under which "Bodler" Alderman McQuade will be released, pending a new trial, at $30,000.

A Newspaper's Benevolence.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 5.—The Baltimore Sun has presented the new steel cruiser Baltimore, soon to be launched at Philadelphia, with a handsome library.

IN A SMALL ROW-BOAT

Two Brothers Face the Elements and Save the Crew of a Wrecked Vessel.

FORESTVILLE, Mich., Oct. 5.—The steam barge Mattawan, of Montreal, went ashore near Richmondville, about eight miles south of here, Tuesday, and is badly damaged. Her crew has been safely taken off by the Allen brothers, living near, who used a small row-boat. The performance of the two Allen brothers was in every sense heroic. They carried their boat to a point opposite the vessel in a wagon, and then, despite the protests of their friends, put out across the heavy sea to the steamer, which lay three-quarters of a mile out and was flying a signal of distress. They reached the wreck and brought two of the crew ashore.

The captain of the steamer, thus encouraged, then launched his boat, and the first sailor that entered it was thrown out by the sea, and picked up on the beach, a mile and a half away, almost dead; but he soon recovered. Six of the crew were brought ashore on the yawl, and the other two were taken off by the Allen brothers in their second trip. The Mattawan is a total wreck, and has been abandoned, the crew having gone to Fort Huron. The Allen brothers are the same men who rescued the crew from the Havana three years ago.

BEDELL'S EXAMINATION.

HIS TROUBLES DO NOT SEEM TO EFFECT HIS NERVE.

He Appears Unrepresented By Counsel, and When Asked Why Gets Impertinent. The Case Postponed—The Case of the Policy Dealers Also Adjourned.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—James E. Bedell, who robbed the clients of the law firm of Shipman, Barlow, Larocque & Choate, of over a quarter of a million dollars, by means of forged mortgages, was before Judge Andrew J. White, at the Tombs, Wednesday morning for examination. He was still unrepresented by counsel, and, when interrogated in reference to it, gave his responses in a somewhat defiant and impertinent tone.

He did not seem to be much abashed at his position, and conversed cheerfully with his brother, who was present in the court room. The examination was adjourned till October 10. When the prisoner heard this he said, in a sarcastic voice: "And so I am to understand that my examination is adjourned to accommodate the district attorney?"

The cause of the Broadway policy dealers, Goss and Anderson, was adjourned to the same day. Lawyer Howe, who has been investigating Bedell's record expects to be able to reveal some secret chapters in the forger's career that will tend to cast considerable light on the true methods by which he disposed of his money.

Warden Osborne of the Tombs prison, was served Wednesday afternoon with a warrant to produce Bedell before Judge Patterson in the supreme court chambers, Friday morning, as a witness on behalf of his late employers, in the suit brought by them against the Bank of New York to recover the amount of his forgeries which was paid by the bank on the firm's checks, the indorsements of which were forged by Bedell.

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE

Indicates That the Murders of Charles Eastman Have Been Arrested.

GREAT FALLS, N. H., Oct. 5.—The dead body of Charles Eastman, a respectable young married man living here, was found floating in the river one morning about two weeks ago. The indications were that he had been murdered. The persons who were last seen in his company were Holton E. Wells and Fred K. Fowle, and Wednesday night were arrested.

Wells and Fowle, it seems, were drinking together after midnight at the Great Falls house on the night of the murder when Eastman entered. Wells asked Eastman to drink, and when Fowle settled for the drinks the latter angrily objected to paying for Eastman's drink and finally grappled with Eastman, who was much the smaller man. At this disturbance the landlord ordered all hands out of the bar, and the trio departed, still talking over the quarrel. Neither, however, was intoxicated.

A few minutes later the shriek of a man was heard coming apparently from the High street bridge. The outcry was loud and piercing, and to those who were awakened by it suggested the idea of some one in great distress. A moment or two later the officers, who had heard the cry, hurried toward the bridge, and met Wells. Replying hastily to their inquiries, Wells said he had not heard the outcry, and passed on.

At the time of the inquest Wells was suspected of having had a hand in the crime, and his testimony did not diminish the suspicion. The evidence upon which he and Fowle were arrested does not, however, seem to be very strong.

A man named Langley swears that he heard voices of men under his window that night who were engaged in any angry altercation, and that later he heard footsteps receding quickly from the bridge. It is thought Eastman was killed on the bridge and thrown into the river. Blows on the head and body showed he had undoubtedly been attacked. The arrested have caused much excitement.

The Deadly Electric Light Wire.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—A young man named Clarke, an employee of the Thomas Houston Electric Light company, of No. 148 Michigan avenue, was instantly killed Wednesday afternoon, by an electric shock from an electric light wire. He was testing one of the lights, and allowed one of his bare arms to come in contact with a naked wire, and received the full force of a forty-five light current. Clarke was thirty years of age, and leaves a widow.

On the Brink of Starvation.

QUEBEC, Oct. 5.—News from Moisie, 202 miles east of the Saguenay, is of the most appalling description. The whole population of that district is on the brink of starvation. The fisheries this season have signally failed, the crops of no great account at any time, have turned out badly, and the few provisions in the place are high in price, and the unfortunate inhabitants do not know which way to turn for food and clothing.

FRIDAY EVE., OCT. 5, 1888.

Notice to Democratic Executive Committee.

A meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee of Mason County will be held at the County Clerk's office next Monday, Oct. 8th, at 1 p. m., promptly. All members are urged to be present. Business of importance.

THOMAS J. CHENOWETH, Ch'm.
CHARLES B. POYNTEZ, Sec'y.

Lincoln's Friend.

Edward Jordan is a citizen of New Jersey. He was the personal friend of President Abraham Lincoln, who appointed him Solicitor of the United States Treasury. Mr. Jordan will vote for Cleveland and Thurman. In a recent interview he said:

"The absurdity of the outcry against the Mills bill appears to me a species of insanity. It certainly is nonsense. The Republicans themselves must be aware of this, for they above all others fully comprehend that the Mills bill is a good measure, and will be attended by beneficial consequences, not to labor alone, not to capital alone, but to both. The greatest good for the greatest number and for the entire Nation is the object of the present Democratic administration. This is genuine protection, by which and under which the many and not the few will be served. On the other hand, the protection of the Republicans is designed and intended to take care of and enrich the few at the expense of the many; therefore it is plunder."

Political Straws.

A Pittsburg manufacturer has contributed $5,000 to aid in the election of the Democratic ticket. He was formerly a Republican, but says he wants the fetters taken off of American commerce so that his firm may compete with the world. Chairman Brie of the National Democratic Committee said the letter from the manufacturer was only one of many hundreds written by Republican converts, but not often accompanied by such generous contributions.

At Vincennes, Ind., James E. Kackley deposited $4,000 in the German National Bank, and issued the following challenge:

One thousand dollars on the election of Cleveland.

Five hundred dollars on Matson and $500 on each candidate on the Democratic county ticket. Premiums have been offered for takers, but as yet none have appeared.

The betting in Boston is $10 to $7 in favor of Cleveland.

Governor Alger, the Republican lumber King of Michigan, pays his hands 75 to 85 cents a day and they live in miserable shanties with barely the necessities of life. The tariff on lumber has made Alger a millionaire, but what has it done for his workmen?

An Associated Press dispatch from Seymour, Conn., Oct. 1st, says: "The Tingle Manufacturing Co., the largest plush concern in country closed its mills last night for an indefinite period. Treasurer Copeland says that free raw wool will boom their business and enlarge their exports. The present inactivity is due to stagnation of business incident to the hesitancy of buyers. The markets are overstocked with goods. They await anxiously the passage of a free-wool measure."

Here is a strong argument in favor of the Mills bill, the most important feature of which is the free wool clause.

Something New in Minstrel Entertainments.

Al. G. Field's Minstrels will appear at the opera house next Monday night. Admission, 25, 35 and 50 cents. The Ohio State Journal in speaking of this troupe, before they opened the present season, said:

The old style first part, set by minstrel companies from the introduction of minstrelsy until the present day, will be discarded. The first part will represent a military encampment. The plot, dialogue, etc., of this part of the entertainment has been copyrighted. The raising of the curtain will disclose the full company, elegantly attired in uniforms, representing the different branches of military service. A grand march, drill and battle tableaux will introduce the company, after which the usual singing and musical features will follow this part of the entertainment and will be a representation of an evening around the camp fire on the tented field. Instead of the stereotyped end men with bones and tambourines, the fun will be made by the comedians, who act as servants to the officers. The uniforms, guns, tents, etc., are made of the best material and are very handsome. The wardrobe for the whole show is exceedingly fine and everything else is in keeping. Everything will be entirely new. The company will be one of unusual excellence. Louis Kerr's Military Band will be one of the interesting features. This will be the fourth season this band has traveled with Mr. Field.

Its Delicacy of Flavor

and the efficacy of its action have rendered fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs, immensely popular. It cleanses and tones up the clogged and feverish system, and dispels headaches, colds and fevers. For sale in 50 cent and $1 bottles.

C. D. Newell was re-elected City Attorney by deposit of one ballot.

Miss Faithful Higgins and sister were refunded $9.50 taxes improperly assessed.

The City Attorney had investigated the title to the alley from Short to Lower and between Second and Third and reported that same was a public alley.

Committee on Public Health was instructed to investigate the complaints against Mrs. F. Hauck's house on Third and if they found it a nuisance to have same abated.

It was reported that the railroad company has abandoned the work of completing fill on Front street for the present. The company was reported engaged making suitable ditches along Third street, Fifth ward.

The following permits were granted: J. W. Pierce, frame cottage on Second street, West end; E. P. Forman, to open billiard and pool room at No. 22 Market street. The petition of John Blanchard to erect stable on his premises in Fifth ward was referred to the Committee on Propositions and Grievances. Likewise the petition of W. Case to erect a frame stable on "Snag" alley.

A claim of Lewis Taylor for $12 for keeping Edward Tonkins was referred to Alms Committee. Likewise the petition of Charles Smith for aid to enable him to go to Cincinnati and have his eyes operated on.

Mr. Cox introduced the following ordinance:

An Ordinance Granting the Use of the Streets and Alleys for Electric Light and Power to the Maysville Gas Company.

WHEREAS, The Maysville Gas Company contemplates adding to its business an electric plant to furnish electric light and power to the citizens of Maysville and request the privilege of using the public streets for this purpose, therefore be it ordained by the Board of Councilmen of the city of Maysville that the said company be and it is hereby granted the privilege of the streets and alleys, to erect its poles and stretch its wires for that purpose, the same to be done under the supervision of the Committee on Internal Improvements.

This ordinance to take effect and be in force from its passage.

Mr. Cox said the ordinance was not "loaded" and assured council there was no scheme on foot. The rules were suspended and the ordinance was adopted.

Ex-Mayor January was granted permit to lay sewer from his business house on Sutton street to the river.

The Marshal was directed to have the water company keep fire plugs in repair.

A complaint of Thomas Craven about nuisance from water from adjoining premises was referred to Committee on Public Health.

The allowance for keeping paupers at Alms House was increased from $2.25 to $2.50 a week.

KENTUCKY CENTRAL.

Probability of Its Being Extended to Columbus, Ohio, at an Early Day.

And Made Part of a New Trunk Line North and South.

It was recently reported that the Kentucky Central Railroad had been sold to the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia, and would be turned over to the purchasers as soon as the Maysville and Big Sandy was completed. The E. T. V. & G. it was said had been trying for a long time to secure an entrance to Cincinnati, but had never been able to accomplish its object. The Cincinnati Enquirer a few days ago talked very knowingly of the rumored sale, and said the terms had been agreed on for some time. But it seems such a great and newsworthy paper as the Enquirer may be a little "off" at times.

A prominent railway official, who was in Maysville recently, was asked if it was really so that the K. C. had been sold. The name of this official is not given, but he is in a position to know just what is going on on the inside.

"I don't know what has taken place since the first of October," said he, "but the sale of the K. C. had not been closed at that date. The E. T. V. & G. people have been negotiating with Mr. Huntington for some time, but they don't want to give what he asks for it. That's about the only thing that has prevented the sale. Mr. Huntington seems to think the road is worth more than they seem willing to give. They seem anxious to secure a connection with Cincinnati, though, and may come around to Mr. Huntington's figures. If the sale is made, I think it will be turned over at once."

"Is the Maysville Division included in the negotiations?" the official was asked.

"It is," he replied. "The Maysville branch is in bad repair. It will take $500,000 to put it in first-class condition. The tunnels will have to be re-arched and a new bridge is needed at Licking, in addition to other repairs."

"What do you think Mr. Huntington will do with the road if the sale is not made?"

"Extend it to Columbus, O. By doing that and closing a small gap at the other end of the road he could soon establish a trunk line North and South. Mr. Huntington hasn't any line running North and South at present, and he has been considering the extension of the K. C. to Columbus for some time. He talked recently of putting a corps of engineers on the route to make the preliminary survey. If the K. C. is not sold, I believe this will be done at no distant day."

"And if it should be sold, what then?"

"I believe the purchasers will make the extension. The gap to Columbus is certain to be built in my opinion, and that too before many years."

"And what's the matter with Maysville?"

"She's all right. The start here has just been made."

Emmitt-Smith.

Mr. D. A. Emmitt, of Waverly, Ohio, and Miss Nora B. Smith, of this city, were quietly wedded last evening at the residence of the bride's parents in the West End, Rev. W. S. Priest officiating.

The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, and is a most estimable young lady.

The groom is a son of the late Robert Emmitt, of Waverly, O., and is very popular among his friends both in that city and here in Maysville, where he has held important positions in the distilleries of Jas. H. Rogers and Poyntz & Sons for several years.

The couple left this morning on the Bonanza on their bridal trip.

Railroad Notes.

The tracklayers on the new railroad reached a point last evening within sixteen miles of Cincinnati.

Superintendent H. E. Huntington and other officials passed up over the new road yesterday afternoon.

The Maysville and Big Sandy Railroad Company will commence carrying the mail between Ashland and Augusta on the 22nd of this month. Notice to that effect was received here yesterday.

A deed from the Newport and Maysville Railroad Company to Collis P. Huntington has been lodged for record in the County Clerk's office. It conveys to Mr. Huntington all the rights of way belonging to the company in this State for $1 and other considerations. The writing is executed by George Howes, President, and S. A. Vanderveer, Secretary, both of New York.

MR. JAMES C. THOMAS has bought of Mr. Henry Wallingford about fifty-five acres of land on Wolf's Run and Farrow's Mill pike for $1,000 cash.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

The County's Interest in the Move to Improve It—Contribution From Washington Precinct.

It should be highly gratifying to the Board of Directors of the Maysville and Mason County Library Association to see that their effort to place on an operative basis our public library is meeting with success. We take pleasure in giving the following list of individuals of Washington precinct, who have subscribed to accomplish this work. Most of the families of the precinct are represented in the list below, and others will no doubt give as they are called upon. The other precincts of the county we feel assured will do equally as well as Washington in this matter. It does not speak well for a county like Mason that it has not for years past been reaping the benefit to be derived through the medium of a public library. It is to be hoped the people feel that the time has now come to establish in their midst this factor of education, cultivation and progress.

We hope soon to have the pleasure of recording lists of contributors from other precincts. Maysville will do her part. Following is the list from Washington precinct:

ON SUSPICION.

TWO SUPPOSED AMERICANS ARRESTED IN LONDON

IN CONNECTION WITH THE WHITE-CHAPEL MURDERS.

One is Charged With Accosting a Woman and Threatening to "Cut Her Up." London in an Excited Condition—The London Times Will Cut Expenses in the Libel Suit—Other Foreign News.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Two supposed Americans have been arrested in connection with the Whitechapel murders. In fact, the police are actively engaged in arresting people on suspicion, and discharging them almost as soon as arrested. Every comparative stranger in the Whitechapel district is suspected, and the man who refuses to fully account for himself to the satisfaction of the authorities gets into trouble.

One of the Americans, or supposed Americans, arrested Wednesday night at 11 p. m., it is alleged, refused to give his name or any account of himself, but claims to have lately arrived from New York. He is described as being smooth shaven, tall and well dressed. He is charged with accosting a woman in Whitechapel, and threatening if she refused to go with him that he would "cut her up," etc. The woman screamed; the man rushed to a cab, but was caught by the police. Moreover, he asked the inspector if he was "the boss," and remarked that he was "in a pretty fix."

Of course being engaged in a disreputable quest was reason enough that he refused to reveal his identity. The murderer has never begun his work so early, and probably does not inform his victim that it is his intention to carve them up as an inducement for them to accompany him to the place of slaughter. He was probably amusing himself at the expense of the terror-stricken creatures of the neighborhood. It simply illustrates the excited condition of London.

The Evening News has created a tremendous sensation by printing in red fac-similes of the letter and postal card received a few days ago at the office of the Central News company, purporting to have been written by the Whitechapel murderer. In these communications the writer gloats over his crimes and threatens to commit others in defiance of the police, of whose efficiency he expresses a very poor opinion. There is nothing new in the way of a clue to the murderer.

Although the perpetrator of the murders committed in and around Whitechapel may continue to remain undiscovered, his horrible work has been the means of directing general attention to the utter inefficiency of the police, and the lesson taught is possibly worth the sacrifice of life required to teach it. The two police organizations, never on the best terms with one another, are bandying charges of inefficiency and the result will or certainly should be, an overhauling of the entire police system. The merging of the city of London force with the metropolitan, and the putting in command of an official, thoroughly versed in the complex duties required of such a body and not a detested baronet like Sir Charles Warren.

The interval between the first two murders, followed by an almost similar tragedy near New-Castle-on-Tyne, gave cause for belief that the monster had fled from London convinced that the class selected for his victims had become so awakened to their danger and the police and people so aroused that his course of crime in the metropolis was ended. Furnished with whistles to summon assistance and walking in pairs the women felt assured of freedom from attack when the double assassination of Sunday morning awakened such a mingled feeling of appalling fear and impotent rage as has perhaps never been known in the modern Babylon.

Among the theories advanced, some by an American journalist have the merit of novelty, and it is the opinion here that a few trained men of that class would be of more service in solving the horrible mystery than all the muddled policemen of London.

In the first place it has all along been assumed that the murderer is a man. Granting the condition generally accepted that the perpetrator is insane there is a possibility that the person is a woman. One of the latter sex would not be suspected by the prospective victim, nor by those whom she might pass in the streets after the commission of the deed in case an alarm was given, and her garments would much more easily allow the concealment of blood stains.

As a second venture, allowing the latter consideration to be one of considerable importance, a man in woman's clothes would possess advantages for escape infinitely superior to those of one dressed in the habiliments of his own sex, and an offer from a drink from a bottle would lure many an unfortunate to a secluded spot who would be suspicious of a strange man, watchful of his slightest move, and would not suffer him to attack her from behind as these women have been killed.

An inquest was held to-day over the trunk of the body found on Tuesday in a recess in the Thames embankment. The surgeons who were present, confirmed the belief that the arm which had previously been found floating in the river belonged to this body.

The Times Libel Suit.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—It is reported that the Times has resolved that, as it has incurred great expense in bringing witnesses to London to testify in the O'Donnell trial, and as it is ready to pursue the same course in connection with the trial of Mr. Parnell's suit against it for libel, which is to be tried in Scotland, it will not incur large expenses in appearing before the Parnell inquiry commission, but will simply supply evidence enough to justify the commission in summoning Mr. Parnell to the witness box and to compel him to show his hand. The Times, it is said, will furnish the commission with the names of other witnesses whom the commission is authorized to summon to testify.
